Spotlight On: Nancy White

I was born and raised in Michigan, where I met Art, my husband, in high school. He was a senior, new to the school, and loved motorcycles, race cars, go-karts, and building model airplanes to compete. We dated, married 3 years later, and shared 59 wonderful years together with two children, until he passed in 2022.

Our lives were adventurous, and our weekends were filled with Art racing formula cars, motorcycle enduros, or competing in model airplane events. We lived in Texas for 18 years, moved to California in 1988, and were always a close family. Weekends were for racing events or sailing together. Art and I even lived aboard a Valiant 40' sailboat for four years, sailing from San Francisco south to Mexico, then on down Central America and through the Panama Canal to the San Blas Islands off the Caribbean coast of Panama.

In 2015, we bought a property in Port Townsend. We boated through the Salish Sea and into B.C. on our powerboat with the Port Townsend Yacht Club during summers. After my husband passed, I eventually moved here permanently in 2025. My son-in-law helped renovate the cottage, and we now have what we affectionately call a "family compound," with my daughter and son-in-law in the main house and me in the separate cottage behind them.

I've grown to love Port Townsend. The community here is warm and welcoming and full of interesting people. I've also taken up new interests, like playing pétanque with the Fort Worden Club, continuing my love of reading, volunteering at The Gathering Place weekly, painting watercolors, learning Zentangle, and trying out gardening for the first time.

Most of all, I've loved finding a church home here. The people of Trinity have been so welcoming, and I'm grateful to be part of this community. I look forward to meeting more of you and sharing this chapter of my life here in Port Townsend, close by the water, my happy place.

Pastor's Log

by Pastor Tony Brown

Jesus ate a lot. OR at least we read about him eating a lot.

Seriously though, read through the Gospels and count how many times he's eating. Dinner with Pharisees. Dinner with tax collectors. Breakfast on the beach. He even invited himself over to Zacchaeus's house. 'Zacchaeus, hurry and come down, for I must stay at your house today." No RSVP. Just showed up hungry.

And after he was gone, the early church kept it going. Acts 2 says they 'broke bread at home and ate their food with glad and generous hearts." Not in a big hall. At home. Around somebody's kitchen table.

I think Jesus knew something we forget. You can sit next to someone in a pew for ten years and never really know them. But share one plate of lasagna and suddenly you know about their grandkids, their bad knee, and the time they got lost in Cleveland.

So about a month ago, we started having dinners at our new place in town.

Five people at a time. Nothing fancy. Good food, plenty of laughing, and usually a dog or two hoping someone drops something. Three dinners so far. Fifteen of you have come through my front door.

And friends, it's been one of the best parts of my month.

I've heard stories I never would have heard on a Sunday morning. People who'd been coming to Trinity for years met each other for the 8rst time. Really met. One night we stayed at the table and played a card game with the girls. Good times.

Here's the thing. Church isn't just a building we visit on Sundays. It's a family. And families eat together.

So I want you at my table.

Maybe you're new and don't know many people yet. Come. Maybe you've been here forever and 8gure you already know everybody. Come anyway. I promise you'll be surprised. Maybe you've got a question you've always wanted to ask your pastor but never found the right moment. This is the moment. Bring it.

You don't need to bring anything else. Just yourself and an appetite.

On the road to Emmaus, two disciples walked for miles with Jesus and didn't recognize him. Then he sat down at their table and broke the bread. 'Then their eyes were opened."

Something happens at a table. Come 8nd out what.

You can 8nd the sign up sheet on the table in the entry way or ask me if you can't locate it.

Hope to see you at dinner,
Pastor Tony ■

Finance Committee Autumn Report

by Paul Nebel

This report covers the 8rst three quarters (January-September) of the 2026 8scal year. Our 8nancial position continues to be in solid shape.

As of September 30, our year-to-date income totaled $182,669, and our expenses were $181,223, which is relatively break-even considering that donations slowed down somewhat during the summer (a not unusual situation). Our Operating Checking account narrowed to $10,358, which is about the same as we started with at the beginning of the year. However, the good news is that the proceeds from the Rummage Sale (approximately $10,500+) had not yet been transferred to the checking account. This was done in late October.

The committee is also pleased to announce that the process for the 2027 budget has begun. I suppose the word "pleased" is a bit of an overstatement. Oh, well. We will be gathering data for income and expenses in November and December to be able to generate a preliminary budget in January, 2027. Then the hard work begins as we 8ne-tune the document for approval by the Church Council in early February. Please be on the lookout in the November Sunday bulletins where you can 8nd a paper for the 2027 Estimates of Giving (EOG). At these times, your contributions are vitally necessary to support this lovely building and its ministry.

Respectfully submitted,
Paul Nebel ■

Laity Sunday. I missed it!

by Kathy O'shea

Or did I? Laity Sunday, a day to recognize the work of all members of the church, can be every Sunday, or any day. We, the laity of the church, do 'our thing" every day to bring God's love to people in so many places. Examples of 'our thing" are wide and varied. Tony did an amazing job highlighting how every job around the church and every activity in our workplaces and the community are vital parts of Trinity's and the United Methodists' mission to love boldly, serve joyfully, and lead courageously.

In 1 Thessalonians 1:1-10, Paul says, 'We always thank God for all of you and continually mention you in our prayers. We remember before our God and Father your work produced by faith, your labor prompted by love, and your endurance inspired by hope in our Lord Jesus Christ". Paul is thanking the community for acting on their faith by serving others generously, quietly and steadily. He reminds us that through our works others learn of the grace and love that is the foundation of being a child of God.

Tony took my favorite song 'All God's Creature's Got a Place in the Choir" to a new level with the personalized lyrics. This song is my reminder that people do di7erent things in di7erent ways and that all jobs are equally important. There would be no choir without everyone working together. There would be no church without each of you.

I thank God that he created each unique person in this church. I thank each of you for the way you steadfastly live your faith with joy and love.

Gratefully, Kathy ■

Building Beloved Community

Building Beloved Community, a call to action from the United Methodist Council of Bishops, equips readers with theological insight, practical strategies, and inspiring global stories to resist division and foster connection. Rooted in Wesleyan theology, this resource guides readers in navigating tough conversations, creating safe spaces, engaging in compassionate action, and building networks of solidarity. Building Beloved Community underscores the urgent need for social healing and the church's role in building just, grace-filled communities.

Candlelight Concert

Thursday, November 19

by Beth Kissinger

Michael Carroll

An Evening of Classical Piano

In-Person, Online & On the Air

Trinity United Methodist's Candlelight Concerts host Michael Carroll, a classical pianist, who will be performing at the Candlelight Concert series at Trinity United Methodist Church on Thursday, November 19th at 7:00 PM for one set with no intermission. This will be a live concert with doors opening at 6:30 PM.

The performance will also be streamed live at https://trinityumcpt.org/concerts where you will 8nd a link for the Candlelight Concerts Online and ways to donate. The concert will also be simulcast on KPTZ FM 91.9.

Admission to the concert is free (really!), with a suggested donation $15 per person. You are most welcome to attend whether you choose to donate or not. Half of the proceeds from this concert will go to Carroll's chosen charity, Habitat for Humanity, whose mission is to 'Seeking to put God's love into action, Habitat for Humanity brings people together to build homes, communities and hope."

Carroll's concert program will include musical selections drawn from the heart of the classical repertoire: Bach, Mozart, Brahms, Chopin and Schubert, 8nishing with some Americana courtesy of Aaron Copland and Scott Joplin.

Pianist Michael Carroll began piano study at age eight and studied with, most notably, Robert Van Meter at Clarion State College in Pennsylvania. Since moving to Seattle in 1990, he has played numerous recitals and chamber music performances and has soloed in concertos by Haydn, Mozart, Poulenc, Bartok and Grieg. An experienced choral and vocal accompanist, he has performed with many Paci8c Northwest ensembles and soloists and for ten years was the sta7 pianist and program annotator for Seattle's Thalia Symphony Orchestra. He is currently co-director of the Port Townsend Symphony Orchestra Chamber Music Series. He lives and teaches in Port Ludlow.

Trinity United Methodist Church is located at 609 Taylor Street, across from the Community Center, in Uptown. Attendees should plan on arriving early ỳ doors will open at 6:30. Masks are encouraged for in-person attendees. ■

United Methodist Organizations Welcome Court Ruling, Reaffirm Commitment to Immigrant Communities

October 23, 2026

WASHINGTON, D.C. – We, the undersigned organizations of The United Methodist Church, welcome the October 20 ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit allowing our legal challenge to the Department of Homeland Security's decision to rescind its sensitive locations policy, including protections for places of worship, to move forward.

This ruling marks an important step in our continued e7orts to protect the rights and dignity of immigrant communities and uphold the sacred role of churches as places of worship and belonging.

Our participation in this legal action is rooted in our shared United Methodist faith and our commitment to the sacred worth of every person. Scripture calls us to love our neighbors and welcome the stranger, reminding us that in welcoming others, we welcome Christ (Leviticus 19:33ỳ34; Matthew 25:35).

The United Methodist Church's Social Principles aff rm "the dignity, worth and rights of migrants, immigrants, and refugees, including displaced and stateless people" (The Book of Discipline of The United Methodist Church, 2020/2024, ¶ 163, "Migrants, Immigrants and Refugees"). These teachings call us beyond hospitality to stand alongside those experiencing discrimination and injustice.

Immigrants are an integral part of our churches and communities. They serve as pastors and lay leaders, and they are our families and neighbors. Their faith and contributions enrich the life of The United Methodist Church. When the threat of immigration enforcement creates fear around attending worship or seeking pastoral care, it undermines the ability of faith communities to live out their calling.

Our Wesleyan tradition calls us to do no harm, do good, and stay in love with God. These commitments compel us to stand against racism and xenophobia while accompanying immigrant communities. They also call us to advocate for the freedom of all people to worship and gather without fear.

In its ruling, the appeals court recognized that the plainti7s demonstrated a credible threat of immigration enforcement at or near their places of worship suff cient to establish legal standing. The court reversed the district court's earlier denial of a preliminary injunction and returned the case for further proceedings. While this is an important legal victory, the ruling does not itself restore the previous sensitive locations policy or prohibit immigration enforcement at places of worship.

We are grateful for the work of our legal partners and the many faith communities standing together in this e7ort. We call on United Methodists across the connection to continue standing in solidarity with immigrant communities through prayer, accompaniment, and meaningful action. Our commitment to justice must extend beyond words and be re9ected in how we care for one another, especially those facing uncertainty and systemic injustice.

Together, we reaff rm our commitment to a church and society where every person is treated with dignity, every community experiences belonging, and all people can gather in faith without fear.

Name Tags

To help us learn each other's names, we're asking everyone to wear their name tags on the last Sunday of each month (next Sunday). There will be paper name tags available in addition to our printed ones.

Hearing Enhancement Technology is Available

Hearing enhancement technology is available. We have a Hearing Loop System that works in the main sanctuary (not the balcony or side room). Hearing loop systems transmit sound from a microphone directly into listeners' hearing aids or cochlear implants, free from ambient or background noise. You may need to ask your provider if your hearing aid has a 'telecoil' or 't-coil', and have them program or activate it for you.

Food Bank

Food Bank. Every Sunday is Food Bank Sunday. There is a basket in the foyer for your food donations. Please get pull-tab cans when possible because some folks are camping and don't have can openers. If you want to write a check, please make it out to TRINITY UMC and write ‗Food Bank' in the memo and place in the o7ering plate. In addition to your other food donations, Trinity's suggestion for:

... November is Chicken

- December is Peanut Butter
