SPOTLIGHT ON: CHERYL & KEITH DYSON

We were both born and raised in the Pacific Northwest. Cheryl grew up in Mount Vernon, Washington. She's the youngest of 4 children, and always loved music. She started singing in the children's choir at First United Methodist Church. In 3rd grade, she started piano lessons, and in the 5th grade she started playing the French horn. She continued participating in music both at church and at school, and knew that she wanted to be a music teacher. After high school, Cheryl wanted to go to the east coast. Her freshman year of college was spent at Syracuse University in Upstate New York. Realizing she was a true Washingtonian at heart, she spent her sophomore year at Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, and then finished her bachelor's and master's degrees at University of Washington. She was married and had a son, Christopher. She taught music, band, and choir in Bremerton, then Centralia, and ending her career in Spanaway. She had to quit teaching in 2020, when her fibromyalgia made it too difficult to work.

Keith grew up in Tacoma and Eatonville, Washington. He's the youngest of 2 children. His Dad was a pilot for United Airlines, and enjoyed flying personal aircraft in his spare time. Keith was always surrounded and fascinated by airplanes. He was going to follow in the footsteps of his Dad and become a commercial pilot. He went to Big Bend Community College for their pilot program. Unfortunately, he graduated in the late 1970s when airlines were laying off pilots, not hiring. He started working at a muffler shop in Tacoma, and then became a Ford mechanic. He was married and had 2 children, David and Sara. He spent a lot of time hanging out at the small airport in Eatonville. He was always asking questions of the mechanics. One of the mechanics finally said, "Why don't you go to school for airplane maintenance?" He went to Clover Park

by Pastor Tony Brown

Celebrating 5 years of Wacky Wednesday!

Good news, Trinity family: the Wednesday afternoon chaos has returned.

Wacky Wednesday is officially up and running for the new school year, and we have 15 teens involved. I'll say that again, because it still blows my mind a little. Fifteen young people choose to show up to church after school, on a Wednesday, of their own free will. If you know any teenagers, you know how rare that is.

If you're new around here, here's the short version. 5 years ago, one of my daughters, Miriam, suggested we start an after-school program where kids could do something good for their community. That's basically the whole idea. It's not a lesson, and it's not a sermon. It's a bunch of creative, funny, big-hearted kids deciding what matters to them and then doing something about it.

Over the years they've folded paper cranes for patients at Jefferson Healthcare and for the residents of Victoria Place. They put on a play to support the food bank. And last year they staged our first-ever Showcase, raising money and awareness for the Northwest Immigrant Rights Project. They planned it, rehearsed it, and pulled it off. I just tried to stay out of their way and keep the snacks coming.

What's next: Showcase #2

Yes, we're doing it again. The second annual Wacky Wednesday Showcase is officially in the works, and the teens are already sorting out what they want it to look like and which cause they want to lift up this year. I'm not going to spoil anything, mostly because they haven't decided yet, but I promise it'll be worth clearing your calendar.

A little help from the county

We're also applying for a $5,000 mini-grant through Jefferson County Public Health. If we get it, the money would go toward three things: keeping the kids fed every week (teenagers and snacks are a package deal), putting on a great Showcase, and stocking up on crafts and supplies. We'll let you know how it goes. Cross your fingers, say a prayer, or do both.

Want to be part of it?

Come cheer them on at the Showcase. Bring a friend. And if you see one of these teens around town, tell them they're doing something special, because they are.

Thank you, Trinity, for being a church that makes room for this kind of joy. And when people ask if we have teens at our church you can tell them we have more than any other church in the area! ■

Technical College and got his Airframe & Powerplant mechanic certification, and later added his Inspection Authorization. In 1992, he landed a teaching position at Clover Park in aviation maintenance. After many years teaching, he moved into a dean position at the college, but did not enjoy it. That is when he moved his career to Boeing. He still works there, but will be retiring at the end of December.

We met each other at Gig Harbor United Methodist Church. Cheryl was teaching in Bremerton and was the

Based on a program developed by the Arthritis Foundation

Enjoy the benefits of being physically active without adding strain to your joints with Take Control With Exercise. This upbeat 60-minute fitness DVD allows you to create a customizable exercise program proven to relieve pain, boost energy and improve your overall health.

Our Exercise group is still at it! We regularly have 10-12 people and there is room for more.

Join us in the Fellowship Hall on Mondays, at 11am for a DVD-guided, gentle stretching to increase mobility as well as strength and endurance exercises. These exercises can even be done while seated.

pianist/organist for the church. This is when Keith was teaching at Clover Park Technical College. Keith started playing drums for the contemporary service at church. It was a difficult time for us, as our spouses both decided they wanted divorces. This is when Cheryl moved to Centralia. We kept in touch through letters and phone calls. In 2001 we got married, and moved to Graham, Washington. We just celebrated our 25th anniversary.

Keith's favorite place in the world is Fort Flagler State Park. He took his kids there every Labor Day weekend. He continued camping there as an adult, and got Cheryl hooked too. We bought property in Port Townsend so we could eventually build a retirement house there. Then the next year, property came available near Fort Flagler. We bought that property, and put a 5th wheel trailer on it. We came up as often as we could, and wished we could stay. In 2022, we put a modular home on our Port Townsend property, and moved in April 2023. Keith is currently building a house on our property near Fort Flagler.

Cheryl started attending Trinity UMC online in 2023. As her health improved in 2025, she started attending in person. Keith joined her in attending services. Cheryl is extra happy that her health has improved enough so she can participate in church music again. We both love our new church family! ■

Limited Edition Holiday Market

There are far too many suggestions on the best way to get ready for the Holidays. Make a list. Make several lists. Avoid the stress: don't make any list whatsoever. Some rather frighteningly mad people might already have completed not only their lists but also checked off most of the items on them. That is just plain scary. There is undoubtedly an unpronounceable clinical term applied to these intimidating control freaks. Reckon their closet is colour-coded. Scary.

Mentioning scary, wo-wo, and bumps in the night...it is almost Halloween. The official/unofficial starting of the Holiday Season. From here onward, the pressures of the fulfilling the can't-have-Thanksgiving / Christmas / New Years-without Small hills become mountains. Mountains sans valleys. Only pointy peaks and slippery sides.

You will need a break. You deserve a break...a laugh...the peace that comes in making a friend... You need to participate in the Limited Edition Holiday Market. You owe it to yourself, family, friends, and general sanity to explore this fascinating twirl on shopping in the comfort of our Fellowship Hall. We are offering all sorts of decorations, ornaments, artistic one of a kinds, amazing memorabilia, decadent homemade goodies, all limited to the Fall through New Year's holidays. Our happy elves, aka honoured volunteers, are bursting with ideas for everything from how to cook your turkey, to showing you the perfect gift for In-law Picky, and helping you to remember Whose Birthday began all this hoopla in the first place...making that memory the beginning of the Hope and Joy we pray you all find this year.

We are currently accepting Autumn, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's related donations. Sundays AFTER Service, and Thursdays 9-11 AM. AND we are currently inviting each and everyone of you to join the fun and sign up for your favourite spot. Please contact jennie Williams, just15may@gmail.com, or (non-texting device) ring 360-344-2366. The event is Saturday, November 7th, 9am-2pm, in the Fellowship Hall. Work days will be November 5th and 6th, Thursday & Friday, beginning at 9am. The honoured elves (workers) will all be most appreciative for lunch contributions on any of the 3 days. Oh/Ho, the Sunday before the happening, November 1st, AFTER Service, we will recreate Debra O's fire line to bring the "stuff" from the attic downstairs. Such a brilliant idea.

Our best wishes for a deeply blessed Holiday Season. Be safe and well, and join us for all the FUN. ■

by Kevin O'Shea

Well, it's great to be back from all that sunny weather in Port Townsend as we get back to the wet gray days of Autumn and Winter. The Trustees have had a much busier summer than planned. After much being completed the past few years, we were looking forward to mowing, weeding and some touch ups. A relaxed pace, if you will.

Well, that didn't work out the way we planned. We had our first sewer issue in April and was quickly resolved. No damage but some piping was shown to be deteriorating. We can plan for this, right? Oh no, within 2 months in late July it went bad again. We knew we had to act and did a weeklong repair of the sewer system. We thought we could just repair the spot where it had been shown through the video scan that the pipe was clogged. We completed that repair and low and behold the remaining pipe to the building had clogged as well. So, stage 2 was the complete removal of piping from the original clog back to the building. It works great so flush away! Please thank Ted Olsen, Bill Brock, Andy Taylor and Charlie Helman.

In addition, we had started to look at the Energy plan for the TUMC facilities spearheaded by David Engle. As God works, a grant appeared from the district on a pilot program, and we were awarded an Energy Audit partially paid for by the district. This audit provided a clear picture of all the great things that had been done in the past: Storm windows, thermal pane glass in the office and fellowship halls, caulking and painting and adding insulation where we could, etc.

It also identified our failings, the largest of which is our heating/hot water system which are both oil. We pulled the committee resources together and Ted Olsen had been on the boiler hunt for a year and had found a Heat pump boiler system that we could use. In addition, we determined that water heating and a large water tank were not the economic solution to heating water and that point-of-use heaters would be far less costly and more effective. A plan was developed for the near-term goals of heating the office area with a mini-split system costing $15,000 and replacing the hot water pipes to point-of-use heaters for $3,000. In addition, some storm protection over stained glass needs attention costing about $1,800. The office area floor was never insulated and is needed to complete that project; estimated cost of $1,000 is planned for the fiscal year of 2027, starting work as soon as funding resources are identified.

The longer-term goal of the boiler and finally solar to run it all is being actively planned for. More to follow, so yeah, we didn't sit around as much as we planned.

Cheers, Kevin O'Shea, Trustees Chairman

PS Did I mention Paul Nebel has touched up the Clay Street walls, painted the rails to both the new and old porches and is Michelangelo (but he won't do ceilings). Thanks to all and more to follow. ■

CANDLELIGHT CONCERT

by Beth Kissinger

Joe Euro

An Evening of Neo-Classical/Finger-Style Guitar Playing

In-Person, Online & On the Air

Trinity United Methodist's Candlelight Concerts host

Joe Euro, a Neo-Classical/Finger-Style local guitarist, composer/recording artist who will be performing at Trinity United Methodist Church on Thursday, October 22, 2026, at 7:00 PM for one full set with no intermission.

The performance will also be streamed live at <https://trinityumcpt.org/concerts/> where you will find a link for the Candlelight Concerts Online and ways to donate. The concert will also be simulcast on KPTZ FM 91.9.

Admission to the concert is free (really!), with a suggested donation $15 per person. You are most welcome to attend whether you choose to donate or not. Half of the donation proceeds from this concert will go to Euro's chosen charity, Bayside Housing, whose mission is to "strengthen community through housing, advocacy, and human services supporting social and economic independence."

This Joe Euro Candlelight Concert performance will feature Acoustic, all Instrumental "Finger Style"/Neo-Classical Guitar, many using various "open tunings" and reach over/hammer-ons, and pull-offs highlighting many of Mr. Euro's "Neo-Classical" original compositions and some actual Classical Guitar pieces, "plucked from the Classical Guitar Repertoire", a few of Euro's lite jazz standards arrangements and improvs,, and a few of Euro's "Ambient Space Guitar" creations which utilize a digital reverb and a volume pedal, to draw down all that "Taj Mahal"-like reverb.

This is a sound he enjoyed developing and experimenting with when he moved to this area back in 1979 and would bring his guitar into the bunkers at Fort Flagler, where he and his wife, Katy lived and ran the Youth Hostel that was there then. Joe also was able to get into the "Cistern" at Fort Worden, which also inspired him to use this mesmerizing "Big Spacey Sound" which is now accessible with some of his "guitarsenal" of various guitars and "gizmology" as he refers to the various sound enhancement tools pedals and devices he often uses. Euro's music has been featured on broadcasts around the world, including NPR and PRI as well as some film and video productions.

Euro's day-job is owner/proprietor of "The Wine Seller", a retail wine/beer/bottle shop located on Water Street in downtown Port Townsend. The Wine Seller was founded by Euro in 1982 and is one of Washington State's oldest and finest wine/bottle shops. Besides his passions for wine and music, Joe loves to travel. For more information about Euro and his varied interests: JoeEuroMusic.com; PTWineSeller.com and JoeEuroTravel.com

Trinity United Methodist Church is located at 609 Taylor Street, across from the Community Center, in Uptown. Attendees should plan on arriving early – doors will open at 6:30. Masks are encouraged but not mandatory for in-person attendees. And Joe is hoping to see a lot of you actually there for this LIVE concert! ■

United Methodist Early Response Team serves Spokane families after wildfires

By Patrick Scriven, Pacific Northwest Conference
Director of Communications

SPOKANE, Wash. — Eight United Methodist volunteers spent three days in late August helping families sift the remains of homes lost in the Spokane Complex fires, recovering ceramics, coins, medals, jewelry and family keepsakes from the ash.

The team worked with four households and met 12 family members, including veterans and people connected to local United Methodist congregations. Much of the work was personal property retrieval. Survivors themselves directed the search, pointing crews toward the spots most likely to hold something that survived.

"You cannot replace a house in three days. What you can do is find the wedding ring, or the medal, or the one bowl that came through unbroken. Survivors told us where to dig, and we dug," said Kathy Bryson, Team Leader.

Early Response Teams are neither first responders nor long-term rebuilders. They arrive in the weeks between, securing property, clearing debris and offering a steady presence as survivors begin to absorb what has happened. The work is as much about accompaniment as it is about labor. Team members spent much of the deployment working alongside survivors and listening to them and to one another.

What you can do to respond

In addition to your prayers, there are two other ways you can be involved in our disaster response efforts.

- Attend the next UMCOR-certified ERT Basic Training
- Gifts to the PNW Conference Disaster Fund (Advance #352) or UMCOR Advance #901670 support the work ahead. Give at pnwumc.org/wildfireresponse or learn more at pnwumc.org/spokane-area-wildfires.

TRINITY HIKING GROUP

by Nancy Stevens

Our faithful hiking group continues to put one foot in front of the other on our area trails. The weather has been beautiful and the trails are as well. How blessed we are to live here! We are hiking at least once per week, mostly on local trails, and walk 3-4 miles per hike. The day of the week varies depending on weather and busyness. It is a wonderful opportunity for fellowship, in addition to exercise and fresh air. If you would like to consider joining us on a hike, please send Nancy Stevens (nstevensnow@gmail.com) your contact information and we will add you to our hike notification list. Being on the list does not obligate you to show up, but it does give you the opportunity to join us when you can. We always welcome new faces from Trinity, as well as from the greater Port Townsend community. Feel free to invite others to join us, too! ■

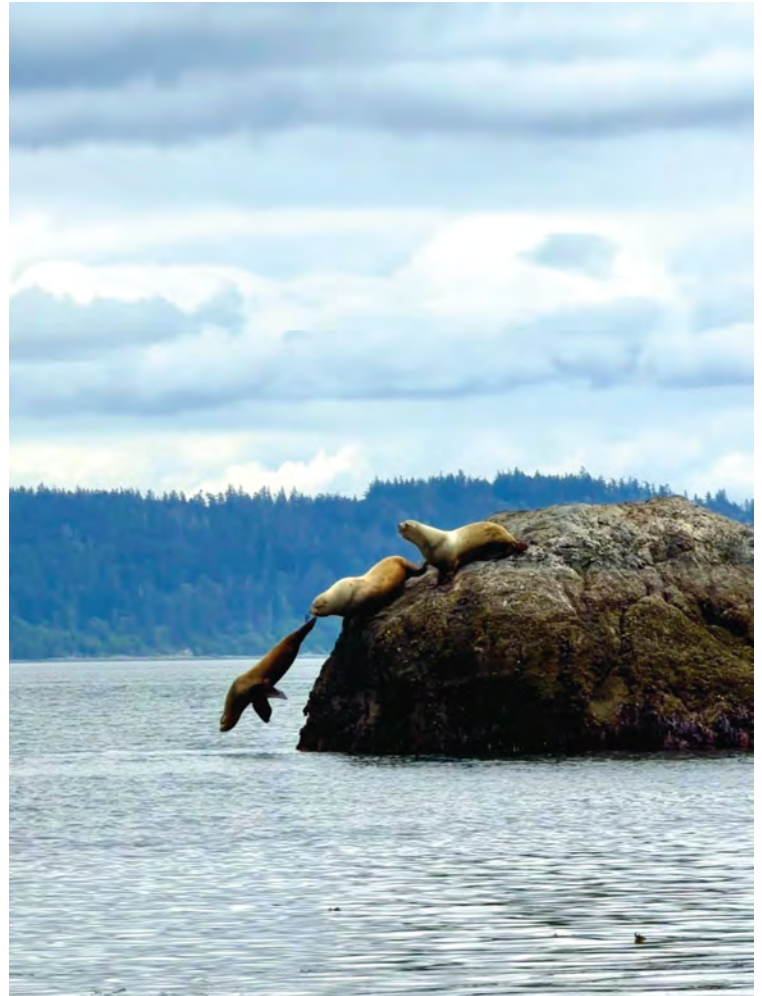

CONFERENCE ROOM GALLERY

by Debra Olson

Another great showing of artwork from one of our talented members is now exhibited on the Conference room walls. Do take a few minutes to stop in to enjoy the colorful varied techniques of paintings by Tony Parks, a multi-faceted artist and constant learner! Read his statement below:

Tony Parks is very happy to be able to display some of his art work at Trinity. He enjoys experimenting with many different types of art. His paintings on display encompass various styles of working in both oil and acrylic paints. In addition to being a painter, Tony is a metalsmith, lapidary, woodworker and photographer. This past year, he added to his many artistic interests by taking up ceramics and bonsai. He hopes you enjoy his work. ■

UNITED WOMEN IN FAITH

by Chris Walvatne

At our September meeting Margaret Engle shared her personal journey being a member of UWF in various locations/states where she and David have lived and how that membership has meant a lot in her life. Margaret also gave a short devotional prayer before inviting all to lunch.

Jennie Williams brought up the idea/plan for a holiday market the first Saturday in November. Set-up will be the previous Thursday and Friday. It is open to all who want to make something or bake something for the sale.

Zoe Ann reported we have a balance of $688 in our treasury. She asked all who wish to donate to UWF put contributions into an envelope with the giver's name on the envelope. No cash, please.

We are still lacking a president/chairperson for our womens' group. Margaret asked for women to help with devotionals, ideas for projects, speakers, field trips, etc. She passed out an input sheet to all there to explore in what direction we want to take our group; Margaret collected that information.

Do we wish to continue our tradition of making Christmas stockings for Dove House? There was a consensus of those present to continue on with this project and it was decided we should start stockings at our next meeting, Saturday, October 17th at 10 a.m. ■

FALL BOOK DISCUSSION GROUP:

Focus is Books About
Ethics, Society and Justice

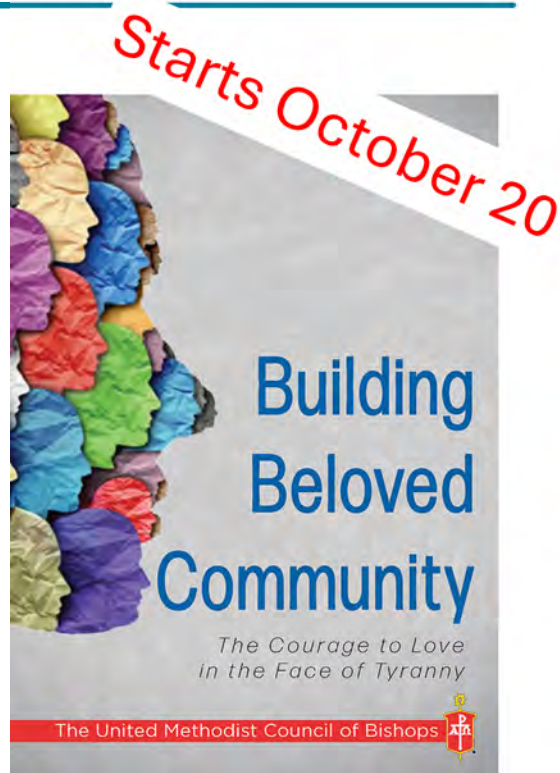

Tuesdays, 6:30 pm, in the Conference Room

Our next book is:

Building Beloved Community

Building Beloved Community, a call to action from the United Methodist Council of Bishops, equips readers with theological insight, practical strategies, and inspiring global stories to resist division and foster connection. Rooted in Wesleyan theology, this resource guides readers in navigating tough conversations, creating safe spaces, engaging in compassionate action, and building networks of solidarity. Building Beloved Community underscores the urgent need for social healing and the church's role in building just, grace-filled communities.

Books available from Kathy O'Shea.

Events & Announcements

Contact Info for Announcements

If you want to contact anyone listed below in the announcements and don't have a directory, you are welcome to contact the office for contact information - just reply to this email.

Saturday Open House

Every Saturday, 9-12, our Sanctuary is open to the church and community for meditation, music and conversation. Please join us! And invite your friends.

Large Print Bulletins

We have a few Large Print bulletins available. You may ask the Greeter for one when you enter the church on Sundays.

Hearing Enhancement Technology is Available

Hearing enhancement technology is available. We have a Hearing Loop System that works in the main sanctuary (not the balcony or side room). Hearing loop systems transmit sound from a microphone directly into listeners' hearing aids or cochlear implants, free from ambient or background noise. You may need to ask your provider if your hearing aid has a 'telecoil' or 't-coil', and have them program or activate it for you.

Lynn will be on vacation the week of October 5th and back on October 12th.

Dove House Collection

Trinity United Women in Faith is Collecting Personal Hygiene Products for Dove House Advocacy Services
Items needed: Full size, new, basic hygiene products such as shampoo, conditioner, body lotion toothpaste, toothbrushes, dental floss, and especially tampons and panty-liners. The Collection Box is in the Fellowship Hall. Thank you!

MEDICAL KIT IN ENTRY

Remember: we have a full MEDICAL KIT - including FIRST AID SUPPLIES - in the entry. Look for the label on the right hand side of the big cabinet.
